1. Summary of changes

- 1.1 This is a review of joint policy.

2. Introduction

- 2.1 Due to the potential legal implications from the use of out of date or inaccurate forms and the public perception of the service when displaying publications, high standards and control of publications will be set and maintained.

3. Statement of Policy

- 3.1 To eradicate unnecessary bureaucracy whilst maintaining necessary control, there is a requirement to ensure that a properly structured set of corporate common publications (CPs) exists to cover all aspects of administrative and data collection requirements. A process is in place to ensure non-common publications keep to corporate standards, that no infringement of copy rights are apparent and best use of resources in manufacture are being applied.

4. Applicability

- 4.1 All CPs are to be managed by a form/publication owner (Owner) who is to be a nominated post holder responsible for the use of the forms within an operational or support function.
- 4.2 Owners are to review CPs once every three years or as required to ensure they remain fit for purpose. Templates will be version controlled with the latest being available for use and previous versions archived.
- 4.3 If there are any queries about the application of this policy the Print Services Supervisor can be contacted for advice at: PrintServices@norfolk.pnn.police.uk.

5. Ordering and Delivery

- 5.1 Print Services (PS) has a “print on demand” capability for the manufacture of higher quality products at a better value than general force Multi-function Devices (MfDs) and outsourced providers.
- 5.2 To maximise the internal capability of PS, all print requirements are to be directed to PS other than those highlighted in 5.3. PS will arrange production either internally or through third party providers.
- 5.3 If a small number of straightforward forms are required and quality is not an issue then templates can be accessed here.
- 5.4 Enquiries for the initial design and manufacture of new forms and publications for internal use are to be made to PS. Design for all other publications is to be made to the Corporate Communications department. This may result in a face to face meeting or the use of other technical solutions to finalise the artwork; with the final design being signed off by the requestor once it meets all necessary corporate standards.

- 5.5 All new forms are to be reviewed by the Information Management Department to ensure there are no potential data protection infringements; this will be coordinated by PS.
- 5.6 Minimum effort should be put into the preparation of any design drafts by the requester as PS will advise on the most appropriate and cost-effective method of production (design, manufacture and reproduction).
- 5.7 Requests for all printed matter, when artwork has been agreed, will be made following the process shown at Appendix A.
- 5.8 A budget code will be required for all printing services.
- 5.9 Completed orders will be delivered via the general internal delivery service. If the requirement is urgent the requestor should coordinate collection and delivery through Transport Services.
- 5.10 Because of regular changes in the format of publications and the cost of holding stock, it is not cost effective to hold unnecessarily large quantities of publications. Local units should retain a working stock based on their normal use and re-order at a level that will not leave them with any shortfalls.
